William J. Moore, His Slayer, Arrested and Held Pending Investigation.

Post-Mortem Shows Fractured Skull—Trouble Over Payment of 5 Cents.

A quarrel in which the payment of 5 cents was involved, last night resulted in the killing of Thomas McGrath, a hatter at 129 East Huerfano street, and the arrest of William J. Moore, charged with having struck the man a blow that fractured his skull. McGrath died at his home, 105 South Wahsatch avenue, at 6 o'clock, two hours after he was assaulted.

Twenty minutes later Moore, brother-in-law of J. W. McMahon, proprietor of the Palace Pool hall, 127 East Huerfano street, and in front of whose place the tragedy occurred, was arrested by the police and is being held pending the findings of the coroner's inquest this afternoon.

Moore declared that he did not know the man he struck until he was told he was to be shot. The argument which resulted in McGrath's death started about 3 o'clock, and Moore spent the remainder of the afternoon at the pool hall, where he is employed.

Detectives Get Eyewitness.

One witness of the blow, Charles A. Page, who was picked up about 8 o'clock last night by the detectives, said that McGrath was not knocked down and that he had no idea the shot left hand swing he charged would result in death. At a post-mortem examination last night by County Physician E. L. McKinnon and Drs. C. H. Brown, W. T. Gullion and G. A. Boyd, it was found that McGrath sustained a fracture of the skull just above the right ear. A blood clot weighing five ounces was also removed by the physicians.

Page declared that so far as he observed, Moore struck McGrath with the back of his hand. "It is possible," he said, "that it may have been with his fist." Those who examined the injury, however, are certain that McGrath was hit with a pool ball or a heavy blunt object.

After he was struck, McGrath went to his shop, east of the pool hall. J. P. Rice, an expressman, saw him seated inside the doorway and inquired if he was ill. McGrath is said to have replied that he believed Moore had fractured his skull and that he was going to have him arrested. Rice suggested that he take McGrath home in a wagon, and the latter consented. Arriving at the house, he climbed out of the wagon unassisted, and that was the last Rice saw of him.

Dr. Gullion made two visits to McGrath's home during the afternoon, being called upon after the police had been seen to be serious. A short time after the second visit, McGrath died.

From Page's story of the affair McGrath's death followed an argument as to who should pay for a game of "one-half" at the Palace Pool hall. McGrath claimed that the "low" score should determine the loser of the game. His opponent, "Dutch" Hammond, said that the player who made the ball should not pay for the game. Several men were asked for their opinion, and a majority ruled that the player making the ball won the game. Those who held this opinion were liable. Is the reply McGrath is said to have made.

Argument Renewed.

The argument was renewed after McGrath stepped outside the hall. Page was standing near by when Moore came to the doorway. Moore, Page said.

Cuban Executive Answered Charges of Enemies and Friends Call Him Weak.

HAVANA, July 6.—Attacks recently made by President Gomez by a newspaper which has shown much opposition to the administration, are apparently beginning to assume importance. Congressman Andrews, director of the newspaper El Dia, charged the president with the accumulation of a huge fortune during the two years of his administration.

The president has been in a statement giving an inventory of his estate, which shows it to be only of moderate dimensions acquired prior to his assuming office. This action is deplored by his friends as weak and undignified and denounced by his enemies as an attempt to cover culpability. The result of the controversy was shown to-day in a host of disquieting rumors.

DETERMINED TO PAVE DOWNTOWN STREETS.

May Make Street Car Co. Sit
Up and Take Notice, if It Blocks Improvement.

That Colorado Springs can make it very inexpensively for the Colorado Springs and Interurban Railway company, controlled by the Stratton trustees, to block paving in the downtown business district, is the belief of City Attorney McKesson, reached after careful study of the exact terms of the franchise under the street car company operates. Certain clauses of the old franchise give the city great power in the matter of public improvements, and upon these Mr. McKesson is relying.

Perhaps as important to the situation as the belief of the city attorney is the attitude of the city commissioners. While not belligerent, it is certainly determined. They intend to have paving, and to have it quickly, and they are a unit in their determination.

"Perhaps, after we have brought up such questions as the placing of all their wires underground, the removal of their poles, and the reduction of the present exorbitant 10-cent fare to the canons and to Maniton, not to mention certain other matters, the street car company will view this matter in another light, said one of the commissioners yesterday.

Council Determined.

"We do not intend to have the street car company block us," said another, "and what is more, we believe that we can compel it to do what appears right to a vast majority of the citizens, and their share of the cost of paving."

It was also evident at the Council meeting yesterday afternoon and about the city hall, that the objections of property owners on East Pikes Peak, Platte and Cascade avenues, have a great deal of weight. From the statements of a majority of the Council, it seems probable that East Pikes avenue will not be paved, and that Cascade and Platte avenues will not be paved. It is the disposition of the city commissioners to gravel, and all the two last named thoroughfares, while the absence of any members of the City League from the meeting yesterday afternoon appeared to confirm the commissioners in their expressed intention to omit the parking on East Pikes Peak avenue.

Little was done at yesterday's meeting, called to hear further protests. Inasmuch as no one spoke in protest at the meeting, who had filed his intention of so doing before 11 o'clock yesterday, legally the last moment for so doing, there could be no such legal protests, except from those who had already spoken, and none such appeared.

Other Protests.

John Curr protested against paving South Cascade avenue, saying that he believed it should be confined strictly to the business district. George Southcott inquired whether signatures of the owners of more than 50 per cent of the property involved has been secured on the paving petition. The Mayor said that this per cent has not been obtained, but that enough "to push the thing through" have been obtained.

The Council then adjourned.

The street car company is now operating its lines, with the exception of the line between Wahsatch avenue and the old Colorado Springs Rapid Transit railway franchise. It is this franchise which, according to McKesson, gives the city all power needed to make it had policy for the company to obstruct the proposed improvement. Members of the Council admitted, however, that by the use of injunctions and other legal technicalities, the company could delay the improvement. That it will dare do this, in face of the certain condemnation of public opinion, and also at the risk of the semi-legislative action of the Council, they do not believe.

Attorney McKesson may discuss the legal status of the entire question at the Council meeting this morning.

So Declares Admiral Truppel, Commander of Germany's Black Sea Fleet.

"We will never come to universal peace. My country and yours are making no mistake in constructing dreadnoughts that will make each navy surpass any strength heretofore known to civilization, for the time of everlasting peace is beyond all possible maintenance by man. Civilization is making rapid strides forward, and to cope with each new condition we must have protection such as only the present and future navies of the foremost countries can and will produce."

These sentiments, so contradictory to the now almost worldwide aspiration for peace for international arbitration that will end war once and forever, were expressed last evening to a Gazette reporter by Admiral Truppel, commander of the German Black sea fleet, and one of the foremost officers of the mighty naval force which Kaiser Wilhelm is building up in the effort to place the German empire on a par with Great Britain, the greatest naval power in the world.

In his outspoken disbelief in the feasibility of ever getting the leading civilized nations to agree to arbitrate their differences, which would lead eventually to practically complete disarmament, Admiral Truppel echoes the opinions recently expressed by Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, who declared that universal disarmament is utterly impracticable, and, in effect, asserted that Germany would never be a party to it.

Despite the request of the German foreign office a few weeks ago to receive a copy of the arbitration treaty drafted by the United States and Great Britain, and which it is believed France will join in signing, the expressions of Admiral Truppel coincide with the opinion, general in diplomatic circles, that Germany is only playing for time, and has no sympathy with the peace agitation that is rapidly gaining momentum not only in this country and Europe, but even in Japan.

Despite this official attitude, however, the sentiment of the German people, as a whole, is, according to most observers, strongly in favor of the movement for disarmament and arbitration, especially because the heavy burden of sustaining the empire's vast military and naval forces is fast becoming unendurable.

Admiral Truppel just at present is far more interested in scenery than in war, as he is taking advantage of the comparatively unclouded continental sky to see some of the world where his duty as a German sailor is to stay. He is never to take him. With his wife and two children he is on his way back to New York after a tour of California, and will spend several days enjoying the beauties of the Pikes Peak region. The admiral, who is staying at the Acacia, was warm in his praise of the refreshing air and beautiful scenery which he and his family are enjoying to the full.

Secretary Knox and Ambassador Bryce Sign Schedule of Pecuniary Claims

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The principle of arbitration of international disputes insofar as its application to the United States and Great Britain is concerned, received a pronounced impetus today. Secretary Knox and Ambassador Bryce signed the first schedule of certain pecuniary claims existing between the United States and Great Britain and the terms of their submission to arbitration in accordance with the special agreement signed August 18 last.

Not satisfied with this accomplishment, however, the secretary and ambassador Bryce then further lent their energies to the cause of international peace by conferring on the proposed general arbitration treaty which is to supplement by broadening its scope, the very convention under which the pecuniary claims will be arbitrated. This conference was devoted to questions relating primarily to phraseology. It is admitted that the treaty is all but completed, and the administration is confident it will be finished in time for submission to the Senate for reaffirmation at the present session.

The pecuniary claims to be arbitrated aggregate several million dollars. Some of them are of long standing even antedating the war of 1812.

Both the special agreement and the schedule of claims will now be submitted to the Senate for ratification. The special agreement commits the two governments to arbitration of the claims and provides the machinery of the arbitral tribunal while the schedule is a list of claims believed to be legitimate and worthy of consideration.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 6.—Beaten until unconscious by a strange negro to whom she had just handed a drink of water at a bar, a white woman today, Mrs. G. M. Attracted by her screams, neighbors came to Mrs. Kimberger's rescue and released her.

ptomaine poisoning. Mrs. Jones' husband, J. T. Jones, who is leading in the Cripple Creek district, was notified, and arrived in Colorado City last night. Dr. L. A. Miller, who was summoned, says Mr. Sheldon's illness is intestinal, while Mrs. Jones is suffering from throat trouble. She was much improved last night, but practically no change is noted in her father's condition. Mr. Sheldon is only partly conscious at times, and his condition cannot be determined for a day or two. He is 78 years old, and his advanced age makes his illness the more serious.

Came Here in 1860.

Mr. Sheldon came to Colorado City with an ox train in 1860, together with Benjamin F. Crowell, Fred Spencer and Jim Tappan. That summer he went on the divide and founded Palmer Lake, and shortly afterward, returning to his vocation, civil engineering, he surveyed the entire valley around Colorado City, making connections with the standard fifth meridian. In 1863 he surveyed portions of El Paso, Pueblo, Arapahoe and other counties of this state. He was the first county surveyor of El Paso, and served as peace justice, assessor, and other official capacities. He was a member of the territorial legislature for two terms, and in 1864 was appointed by Governor Evans as one of the first three brigadier generals of the state. Their work was to organize the militia companies throughout Colorado.

In the winter of 1887-88, Mr. Sheldon built the stone and brick structure in which he has lived ever since. At one time the building, with its 10-acre site, was referred to as "an island just outside the junction of Colorado Springs and Colorado City." Even now, as a part of Colorado City, it marks the dividing line between the two municipalities.

Secretary John T. Burns of the congress, went to Fort Morgan last Monday and attended a meeting of the chamber of commerce, which was a representative gathering of merchants and bankers. He found them enthusiastic over the congress, and resolutions were adopted tendering Colorado Springs congratulations on her effort to better conditions in the agricultural regions of Colorado by securing and managing this great exposition.

A committee of five, headed by the mayor, was named to call upon the county commissioners and ask that $500 be set aside to give Moran county proper representation at the dry farming exposition. Only two of the commissioners were present, but they expressed their willingness to do so.

Denial after denial came from his lips yesterday, while at the same time, his apparent dupe, Fields, told how King had laid the plans of the crime which were carried out to the letter.

King Denies Everything.

Meanwhile King denies all the details that tend to show him the hardened criminal, which have been picked up by the officers in the last few days. He denies that he planned to murder the old rancher last January, although Jim Dunsmore, in Iowa, wired that such was the case. He denies that he hid $500, stolen from a Colorado Springs man, in a sewer pipe in this city until the search for the robber blew over. He does not explain a number of things the sheriff's office would like to know, as to his past life. He has served more than a year at the state reformatory for attempting to burglarize a store in Glenwood Springs when he was 16 years of age. He is 20 years of age, dark, and has only one arm, the right one having been amputated as a result of an accident at the Portland cement works. He now has a damaged right hand. He now has a damaged right hand.

When 11 years of age Fields' mother ran away with a man named Doolittle. Soon after that he was deserted by his father, and two years later was adopted by Edward Silks of Kiowa, after spending the interim in the state home for dependent children. Since then he has barely earned a living at ranch work and sheep herding.

to Prevent Lynching.

PUEBLO, July 6.—Bob Harris, the negro who shot and killed Chief of Police J. B. Craig and seriously wounded Officer Jake Kinger at Rocky Ford Tuesday night, was this evening brought to Pueblo from La Junta for safe keeping. Harris was brought in an automobile in charge of Sheriff Potter of Otero county and six deputies. Mob violence was feared if Harris was kept in La Junta. To prevent any trouble, Governor Shafroth, earlier in the day ordered out a company of militia.

Sheriff R. H. Potter turned Harris over to the Pueblo county authorities here tonight and although Harris was placed in a strong cell, in the county jail, no particular precaution has been taken against mob violence.

Sheriff Potter called Governor Shafroth on the telephone as soon as he had safely delivered the prisoner. Governor Shafroth asked Sheriff Potter to remain in Pueblo for a few days to be on hand if violence should be threatened and if necessary to take Harris to the state penitentiary for safe keeping.

The Otero county sheriff is of the opinion that no effort will be made now by Rocky Ford people to come after the prisoner.

Harris told Potter that he intended to go to La Junta tonight to give himself up, had he not been captured, as he was almost starved and feared a mob.

Harris was discovered in the parsonage of the Negro church at Rocky Ford. He had two bullet wounds in the head, indicating that the officers had fired upon him at the time of his attempted arrest.

Craig's Son Was Here.

A son of Chief Craig was in the barber shop of L. M. Roberts, 514 1/2 Colorado avenue, Colorado City, last Wednesday, when he heard the Rocky Ford tragedy discussed. He remarked that he was from Rocky Ford, and asked the name of the victim.

"Chief of Police Craig," answered one of the barbers, "do you know him?"

"He is my father," cried the youth, who was nearly prostrated by the news.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—A more general sentiment for expeditious action on Canadian reciprocity without revision and free list bills, was apparent today after informal conferences among various groups of Senators, and six hours of continuous debate in the superheated chamber of the senate. It was the first of the longer session under the decision of the Senate to meet one hour earlier to hasten action on the legislative program.

Senator Gronna of North Dakota, an insurgent Republican, after a long speech in opposition to the agreement, during which he clashed frequently with advocates of the measure, was forced to give up almost exhausted at 5 o'clock this afternoon and the Senate almost immediately adjourned.

Several Cities.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Thunder showers in the North Atlantic states tonight drove the heat wave from what was practically its last stronghold, and the country generally is freed from the sweltering conditions of the last five days.

Boston, with 100 degrees, held the record for the day. Only with Miles City, Mont., where a sudden rise in temperature manifested itself; but a thunder shower caused an immediate drop of 24 degrees in Boston. Like showers were general throughout New England, New York, Pennsylvania and the Ohio valley. A continuance of showers with moderate temperatures is promised for the same states tomorrow.

Washington continues to broil in a temperature of 88 degrees. The downtown thermometers of the department of agriculture showed a maximum of 105, and there were two deaths due to the heat.

Shooters in New York.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Showers tonight brought immeasurable relief to New York from the hot wave, which has taken more than 100 lives and caused hundreds of prostrations during the five days it has hung over the city. The day's maximum of 82, however, bettered yesterday's high mark by half a degree.

During the shower tonight the mercury dropped 10 degrees in 45 minutes, running down to 78 at 8:45 p. m.; but with the passing of the brief storm there was another upshot to 82, and there seemed to be no ground for the hope that the break of the torrid spell finally had been broken.

The day's death toll, 24, was the heaviest recorded for any 24 hours since the heat wave began.

MEXICO CITY, July 6.—Frequent clashes with fatal results marked the day of the strike at men today, and tonight the strikers seem to control the situation. The few submachine guns being used are the cause of trouble in many instances.

Following a clash this morning between police and strikers near the railroad in which two were killed, another riot occurred in which Governor Carrasco of the federal district played a part.

To make a personal inspection he boarded an outgoing suburban train. Soon after starting a mass of strikers surrounded the train. The governor, through the sight of the governor, some one shouted for the crowd to get fire to the car. The governor gave orders to check the crowd. Strikers shot him. More than 50 arrests were made. Most of those arrested are at the city jail.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The government will renew the fight to disassociate the great coal carrying railroads from their virtual control of the interstate commerce law.

A test case against the Lehigh Valley railroad will be filed today in the United States court in Philadelphia.

That the Lehigh Valley Coal company, Cox Bros., incorporated, the New York and Middlefield Railroad and Coal company and the Lehigh Valley Coal company are not bona fide coal companies but merely adjuncts to the Lehigh Valley railroad and are devices for evading the commodities clause in the interstate commerce law.

It is also alleged that the Lehigh Valley, with the object of removing competition, has caused the Lehigh Valley Coal company to contract at a loss for the output of other independent operators, has transferred the coal over its own lines and through the coal company has fixed the price in New York and other markets.

The government charges that although the buying of coal from other operators has been done at a loss to the coal company it has enabled the Lehigh Valley railroad to transport the coal over its lines and profit from the freight charges.

Coal Company 'Dummy.'

To support its claim that the coal company is merely the "dummy," the government cites that the officers of the railroad and the coal company are the same and that certain members of the directorate and the executive committee of the coal company, among those named are Elen B. Thomas, George E. Baker, E. T. Stotesbury and James A. Middleton.

The government's complaint also says that since the capital stock of the coal company has been owned by the railroad it has paid no dividends, that millions of dollars have been refunded and that the railroad has paid the interest on the coal company's bonds being compensated, the government claims, by the earnings of transportation of coal over its lines.

By proving that the Lehigh Valley railroad is actually the legal owner of the Lehigh Valley Coal company's assets or has a pecuniary interest in it the government hopes to bring its case into line with the recent decision of the supreme court in the commodities clause case, striking down dummy coal companies and force the coal carrying railroads from their control of mines.

Blow at Coal Trust.

While in effect the government's action is a blow at the so-called coal trust, the case is separate from that which is now on appeal to the supreme court. In the government's original commodities clause action against anthracite roads, which was begun in 1908 the courts held that a railroad company might own stock in a coal company and not violate the commodities clause if it did not own or have any interest in the transportation of coal of that company.

With that decision the commodities clause was considered by many a dead letter, but Attorney General Wickersham carried the case to the supreme court where it was decreed that the government might amend its complaint and involve the question of fact as to whether the railroad has any interest in the coal which it transported.

Judge Gray of the United States circuit court of the eastern district of Pennsylvania, signed an order at Wilmington, Del., this morning permitting the filing of the amended complaint. The government is represented in the action by the attorney general, James A. Fowler, his assistant and Edwin P. Grosvenor, special assistant attorney general.

Mrs. Young, President Educational Assn., Is Not After Re-election

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—The first bulk influx of eastern delegates to the convention of the National Educational association, which opens here tomorrow evening, arrived today. This vanguard included representatives from Chicago and New Orleans. The in-pouring is expected to continue steadily until Saturday and the reception committees are busy with plans for welcoming thousands of visitors.

The most notable of the day's arrivals was Mrs. Ella Young, president of the association, who is city superintendent of schools in Chicago.
Mrs. Young came with a party of about 20. The opening feature of the convention will be a banquet tomorrow evening in Mrs. Young's honor.

Other features of the meeting will be the commercial exhibits by the school book and supply firms and by the education bureau of the Philippine islands.
The island exhibit is in charge of C. N. Briggs, superintendent of the Philippine normal school, and is aimed to instruct teachers in the methods used there. An unusual privilege will be that of visiting the fortifications of the Golden Gate, which will be given only to the delegates. The visiting parties will be led by the army outfitters.

Positive announcement that she would not be a candidate for re-election was made tonight by Mrs. Ella Young. An unwritten law of the association is said to prohibit successor terms, but friends of the incumbent, representing what is termed the progressive element of the organization are urging Mrs. Young to stand

Stokes Tells His Story

NEW YORK, July 6.—Another case of Asiatic cholera brought into the port on an ocean liner was discovered today. The victim was a steerage passenger on the steamer Moltke, which arrived yesterday from Genoa, Naples, and was detained at quarantine pending investigation of a suspicious case of illness. The result of the examination convinced Health Officer Doty today that it was a case of cholera.
The cabin passengers of the Moltke will be released and the steerage passengers and crew will be detained for further observation.

STOKES TELLS HIS STORY

NEW YORK, July 6.—A package of 18 letters written in bygone years to Miss Lillian Graham, was handed up to the judge's bench this afternoon in the court room where Miss Graham and her chum, Ethel Conrad, were arraigned

W. D. Stokes, the millionaire hotel man.

The letters had been found, a defective said, in the young woman's rooms and constituted the prize to recover which Stokes said he had risked his life.

Stokes, pale and worn, told his own story of the shooting. He had been summoned to the apartments, he said,

Fortune Late Empress Dowager of China, Totaling Millions in Gold Bars, Removed.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 6.—According to Chinese papers received today it is credited to Peking that the fortune accumulated by the late Empress Dowager Tze Hsi and which amounts to between $30,000,000 and $50,000,000, chiefly in gold bars, has been shipped to England, whence it will be transferred to a bank in Brussels for investment. Since the death of the empress dowager the treasure has been stored in the palace under a guard of soldiers.

By Miss Conrad who told him that Miss Graham had left for Europe. He was anxious, he said, when he saw he had been deceived and declined to sign an alleged statement setting forth that he had defamed Miss Graham and her relatives. He had also declined to pay $25,000 under threat of death, he added and thereupon Miss Graham began to shoot.

Chicago packing firm was found dead today in his room at a hotel. The coroner pronounced his death due to the heat. Three other deaths due to the heat were reported to the police today.

Eleven Deaths at New Haven. NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 6.—The hot weather today caused 11 deaths and 20 prostrations in this state. Ten night electrical storms visited several parts of the state cooling the atmosphere for the time being but after they had passed the heat was more oppressive than before.

DETROIT, July 6.—Although the maximum temperature today was only 88 degrees prostrations were numerous owing to the excessive humidity. Fifty leg wagon drivers became exhausted and were forced to quit work. The total number of deaths due to heat since Sunday is 20 of which five were drownings.

BOSTON, July 6.—Thunder showers in various parts of New England served to relieve the suffering caused by five days of excessive heat. Today's maximum was 105.

The day added largely to the number of deaths and prostrations. Seven deaths from heat occurred in Manchester, N. H. Widespread damage resulted from the heavy electrical showers tonight. There were 49 deaths in Boston and its suburbs due to heat.

PEORIA, Ill., July 6.—Four deaths resulted from heat today, making a total of nine in the three days' hot spell. The maximum temperature registered was 99 degrees.

CINCINNATI, July 6.—A thunder storm this afternoon brought relief from the excessive heat but not until five deaths and 45 prostrations had been added to the record-breaking list of sunstroke cases. The highest point reached by the thermometer was 96 degrees.

TOLEDO, O., July 6.—A rainstorm accompanied by heavy thunder and lightning broke the extreme hot weather here this afternoon, but not before three more lives were taken by the heat. Today's deaths make 14 from the heat in three days.

PHILADELPHIA, July 6.—The hot wave which continued today with unabated vigor caused 14 more deaths, making a total of 57 for the heated term. The maximum temperature today was 95. Electrical storms are reported throughout the state tonight accompanied by marked decreases in temperature.

BALTIMORE, July 6.—The hot wave struck with increasing force today, and the result was 15 deaths and more than a score of prostrations. The maximum temperature was 95. Since July 1 there have been 50 deaths attributable to the heat.

WINNING. MORE RECIPROCITY. SENTIMENT.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 6.—The Boden anti-reciprocity party struck a hotbed of reciprocity sentiment among grain growers in Neepawa, Man., tonight, where a number of farmers urged him to support reciprocity. He stated that eastern Canada was with him in his present course.

HOT WAVE IN ENGLAND. LONDON, July 6.—England is experiencing a hot wave, which, according to meteorologists has no connection with that in America. The temperature in London today was 83 in the shade—the hottest for two years.

REIMBURSE GUSTAVO MADERO. THE CITY OF GRAFT.

MEXICO CITY, July 6.—Following a conference of President de la Barra and Minister of Finance Madero, an order was issued to the national treasury today to pay to Gustavo Madero $320,000 gold to reimburse him for expenses incurred during the revolution. Gustavo Madero, a brother of Francisco I. Madero, contributed liberally to the revolutionary fund.

ELECTRICAL STORM FATAL. LUMBER MEN BOUND OVER.

HARRISONBURG, Va., July 6.—Two men were killed, others were shocked and burned and thousands of dollars worth of damage done today when an electrical storm swept Rockingham county. John Crider and Jacob Wilkins were struck by lightning and killed. A bolt broke up a funeral procession.

OPELIKA, Ala., July 6.—Thirty families are in want as a result of the storm which did $10,000 damage to this section. Tuesday night, an army officer from Fort McPherson is en route here to ascertain conditions with a view to the war department furnishing aid.

HALF OF COAL MINERS IN COUNTRY ARE UNEMPLOYED.

COLUMBUS, O., July 6.—More than one-half of the coal miners in the country are without work, John P. White, president of the United Mine Workers of America, said today just after settling the Nova Scotia, B. C. strike, which has been prolonged for about two years.

LOS ANGELES, July 6.—Outworks of the defense, thrown about John J. McNamara, secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers, and his brother, James, were reached here today, when both men appeared before Judge Walter Bordwell in the superior court and were asked to plead to 19 charges of murder filed in connection with the blowing up of the Los Angeles Times building, October 1, 1910.

No pleas were entered. John J. McNamara contended, through counsel, that he was extradited, for dynamiting in connection with an explosion in the Llewellyn iron works, and could not be tried on any other charge unless the prosecution was willing to admit the crime of kidnapping. As to the Llewellyn iron works situation, he took practically the same position, contending that he could not be tried for conspiracy, which is the accusation, after being extradited for dynamiting.

It also was set up that lies were sworn to by members of the district attorney's office in order to obtain registration papers, and that the judge in Indianapolis, where McNamara was arrested, held a "fake" session of court. The same counsel, acting for James McNamara, answering the murder charge, asked that the indictments be quashed, giving 35 reasons. Many of them were technical. Others allege bias on the part of the grand jury, malice on the part of the counsel and abuse and intimidation of grand jury witnesses. The defense asked that it be allowed to examine the grand jurors to determine their state of mind. Arguments were ordered continued tomorrow at 1 p. m.

RABBIS IN FAVOR OF INTERNATIONAL PEACE.

ST. PAUL, July 6.—The convention of the central conference of American rabbis came to a close today after the adoption of a resolution favoring international peace and the election of officers.

KANSAS CORN CROP FAIR.

TOPEKA, Kan., July 6.—Reports collected today by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad from more than sixty of its local agents indicate that the Kansas corn crop is still in fair shape and that good rains in the next week or so will result in good yields.

TROY, N. Y., July 6.—The common council tonight adopted a resolution calling upon the congressional committee now investigating the United States Steel corporation, to bring before the department of justice the matter of the forced sale of the Breaker Island plant of the steel corporation, opposite this city. Its absorption by the steel trust, and the closing of the works, throwing several thousand men out of employment and causing a loss of $1,000,000 or more annually to the merchants of this city.

The resolution charges that the trust refused to sell the property or to use it for any purpose.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—A scene suggesting some that have occurred in the Camorristi trial in Italy today enveloped the proceedings of the House committee on expenditures in the department of commerce and labor investigating the charge that the once great seal herd of the Pribilof Islands is being wantonly slaughtered by agents of the United States government. Professor Henry W. Henshaw, fur seal expert and United States Fish Commissioner Bowers, who have been in controversy about the seals, confronted each other before the committee, shook their fists and exchanged a series of lively epithets.

Professor Elliot concluding the reading of a statement declared that United States Fish Commissioner Bowers had "perjured himself before this committee."

"You are a self-confessed perjurer yourself," retorted Commissioner Bowers, adding that he could prove the charge.

"That is a rubbishy, rotten charge that no man ever dared put his name to," Professor Elliot responded, shaking his fist in the direction of Mr. Bowers. "I'll get you on the witness stand for that statement."

"Yes, and I'll prove the charge, too, when you do," Mr. Bowers replied vehemently.

Presiding Representative Rothermel of Pennsylvania, a Quaker, suspended the sitting.

Twenty million dollars' worth of soil fertilization material was imported by Great Britain in 1910. Almost half of this sum was paid for bones, which have reached the highest quotation for fully a quarter of a century.

President's Leading Advisers Cause Him Embarrassment by Political Activity in Alabama

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Most of the prominent federal officeholders of the state of Alabama invaded the White House today and laid before President Taft such a tale of Republican factionalism as that politicians in the capital promptly affected to see the beginning of a lively row between Postmaster General Frank Hitchcock and G. D. Hillis, the President's secretary, the two leading political advisers of the administration. According to the Alabamaans, Mr. Hitchcock is behind the candidacy of H. M. Long for Republican state chairman. Long also has the backing of P. D. Barker, Republican national committeeman, and postmaster at Mobile, an acknowledged friend of the postmaster general.

Mr. Hillis is said to be supporting the candidacy of J. O. Thomson, collector of internal revenue for Alabama and for many years Republican state chairman. President Taft told the delegation that he expected to settle the question tomorrow. It is understood that for purposes of distributing patronage the state will be divided into two sections, one to be controlled by each faction. Both Mr. Hitchcock and Mr. Hillis today denied that there had been any trouble between them over the Alabama situation. Mr. Hitchcock reiterated that he is out of politics for good, and Mr. Hillis asserted he had had no row with anyone about appointments in that state.

Politicians here are interested, however, as to how the state chairmanship will be settled. The President may take no hand in the fight over the chairmanship, but it is acknowledged that Republicans in the state are entitled to know "who is who" in Washington when it comes to conducting the next presidential campaign.

Mr. Hillis has taken a strong interest in political affairs ever since he assumed office last April, and today's developments were not unexpected. A clash between the cabinet member and the President's secretary is not regarded as imminent.

WANTED DOG KILLED TO RECOVER DAMAGES

An auto ran over a bulldog belonging to Bud Groves, colored, about noon yesterday, practically not injuring the animal. The owner immediately said that the dog would die and asked $25 damages. Later he discovered the dog would recover in a short time, and is said to have asked Marshal Woodman to kill it, which the officer refused to do.

Those who have thus far failed to see the popular bill on at the Majestic this week, should not miss the last opportunity to do so this afternoon or evening, for it is full of novel and seldom duplicated features.

The wonderful electrical demonstration of the Balloons are paralleled by no other performers. Bruce Morgan and his Piccadilly Johnnies, straight from London, are the only set of the kind in this country. There is only one Blossom Robinson, "the girl with the mirror dress," and only one Laughing Billy Link, with the laugh that won't come off. Also it is seldom that a motion picture drama is equal to "Twining" is turned out. Another comic motion picture and the delightful orchestra music are other features of the program that help to make one of the biggest and best vaudeville offerings of the summer.

Tomorrow another quality bill opens, but no one can afford not to see the entertaining offering of high-class vaudeville which ends its engagement tonight.

MANITOU DEPARTMENT

What the Press Agents Say

"ST. ELMO" TONIGHT

"St. Elmo," a dramatization of Augusta Evans' well-known novel, will be presented at the Opera House tonight, tomorrow afternoon and night by the Lorch Stock company, for the only times this season. The revival of this popular drama promises to draw the largest houses of the summer season.

It has been many years since "St. Elmo" first appeared in book form, but it is as widely read to day as it was when it was first published. According to the librarians of the Colorado Springs library, "St. Elmo" is as much in demand today as any of the latest "best sellers."

The reason for this is self-evident. "St. Elmo" tells the old, old story of the regeneration of a man through the love of a pure girl. This theme has served for many novels and plays, but Augusta Evans, in "St. Elmo," tells the story with a simplicity, a directness and a truth to life that makes a direct appeal to every man, woman or child.

It is rather interesting to note that when "St. Elmo" first came out, children were not allowed to read it, for the character of St. Elmo Murray was thought so very wicked that young minds might be influenced in the wrong way. Nowadays, parents recognize that while Mrs. Evans portrayed St. Elmo with a vividness and a clearness that is at times brutally frank, the lesson taught is one that children may read, not only with enjoyment, but with profit.

Next week, commencing Monday night and running four nights, with a matinee Wednesday afternoon, "The Love Route" will be offered by Mr. Lorch for the very first time in this city. "Alaska" will be produced the latter part of next week. Seats are now selling for all of next week's performances.

Those who have thus far failed to see the popular bill on at the Majestic this week, should not miss the last opportunity to do so this afternoon or evening, for it is full of novel and seldom duplicated features.

The wonderful electrical demonstration of the Balloons are paralleled by no other performers. Bruce Morgan and his Piccadilly Johnnies, straight from London, are the only set of the kind in this country. There is only one Blossom Robinson, "the girl with the mirror dress," and only one Laughing Billy Link, with the laugh that won't come off. Also it is seldom that a motion picture drama is equal to "Twining" is turned out. Another comic motion picture and the delightful orchestra music are other features of the program that help to make one of the biggest and best vaudeville offerings of the summer.

Tomorrow another quality bill opens, but no one can afford not to see the entertaining offering of high-class vaudeville which ends its engagement tonight.

OFFICERS WILLINGLY LET OBJECTIONABLE MAN GO

John Thompson, who was fined $5 and costs in police court yesterday morning for drunkenness, and who began to work out his fine on the streets, decided that it was easier to run than to labor, and started for the city limits as fast as he could go. The authorities thought his room preferable to his presence and let him go.

Thomas Ward was also fined the same amount upon that charge, but paid his fine.

gram, its popularity is a foregone conclusion.

Of one act nothing more need be said than that Mr. and Mrs. James R. McCann are coming back with their unbeatable sketch, "Uncle Charles From Charleston." Not only are these two delightful southern actors of the first magnitude, but the sketch is one of the greatest tabloid dramas ever staged.

The most remarkable artist in his line ever seen here is Claude Rand, who literally sits and sleeps on the slack wire. He does everything ordinary people do on terra firma, and his act is sensational throughout.

The great Wilhelm, impersonator of famous composers, will present an act that has enjoyed great popularity all over the country. He will be assisted by the Majestic orchestra in impersonations that have made him famous.

That she will be a favorite is certain of Carita Day, the charming singer and dancer, who, unlike many, can do both with rare skill.

WILL INVESTIGATE THE EFFECTS OF HIGH ALTITUDES ON HUMAN BLOOD.

Will Investigate the Effects of High Altitudes on Human Blood.

Dr. J. A. Haldane and Gordon Douglas, of Oxford University, England, arrived here yesterday to begin a series of experiments on top of Pike's Peak to determine the effects of high altitude on human blood. They will be assisted later by Dr. E. C. Haldane of Yale University and Prof. E. C. Schneider of Colorado College. They will perform a series of experiments at Colorado College before beginning their tests on top of the Peak, which will occupy six weeks. The series of experiments are being performed under the auspices of the Royal Society of Great Britain.

The principal purpose of the tests will be to determine the relative number of red corpuscles in the blood at different altitudes. It has been a theory, according to Dr. Haldane, that evaporation of the fluid properties of the blood showed there were more red corpuscles than white ones in the blood, because the blood was rendered thicker. It is to establish this theory, mainly, that the investigations will be made.

After the experiments have been concluded at the Peak, they will be continued at Cripple Creek and elsewhere in the state.

Both Dr. Douglas and Dr. Haldane are well-known experimenters who have rendered great service to their government in the way of scientific research.

After two days' trial, a verdict for the defendant was returned by a jury in the district court yesterday afternoon, in the case of Frank N. Briggs, administrator of the estate of the late E. A. Meredith, against Tyson S. Dines, Dr. D. H. Rice and Earl S. Chamberlain, executors of the estate of the late W. S. Stratton. Meredith sued about six years ago to recover $70,000, alleged to be due for services in purchasing stock of the Mars Consolidated Gold Mining company for Mr. Stratton. Judge Owen allowed the plaintiff 10 days in which to file a motion for a new trial.

The probate court disallowed the Meredith claim and it was then appealed by Meredith to the district court, where a verdict was returned in favor of the Stratton estate. An appeal to the state supreme court resulted in the case being remanded to the district court for retrial, with the above result.

City and County May Run Joint Rock Pile

As a result of the controversy between the city and county officials as to the disposal of the waste picked up in the city, a meeting between City Commissioner Hinebaugh and the county commissioners will be held soon, at which an agreement will be reached. By the probable terms of the agreement, the city will furnish the stone to be used on a rock pile, the city and county together will furnish the vagon, the city will furnish teams for hauling the stone to and from the rockpile, and will give three-fourths of the crushed rock, with one-fourth as the county's share. The old rockpile near the county jail will be used.

Members of Joint Union Depot Committee Other Business.

E. C. Sharer and G. C. Hemenway will represent the Chamber of Commerce as members of the joint union depot committee to be composed of representatives from that body, the city and the county. They received their appointment at a meeting of the directors yesterday afternoon, when a resolution by E. C. Ensign asking for two representatives was adopted.

The proposition to construct a circle drive was referred at the meeting to the committee on streets and highways, which will arrange for a trip in automobiles and carriages next Thursday afternoon to be made by the directors of the chamber and park commissioners over the proposed route. This takes in the Printers home, Palmer park, Garden of the Gods, Manitou, Stratton park and Broadmoor. The train to Park City, Colo., which will carry a delegation of Colorado Springs business men, will leave July 11, at 7:30 o'clock in the morning, over the Colorado and Southern railroad. The first stop will be at Eatonville, where 20 minutes will be spent. Similar stops will be made at Elbert and Elizabeth. The train will leave Parker at 7:30 p. m. for the return trip.

Three Women Punished for Selling Without Licenses—Not Connected With Robberies.

Miss L. M. Chase, Mrs. Rae McMillan and Miss Elizabeth McMillan were fined $10 and costs each in police court yesterday afternoon, for selling lace without a license. At first the police thought that they were connected with the recent mysterious robberies in this city, but investigation of their camp, on the outskirts of Colorado City, revealed nothing that would connect them with the crimes. After they paid their fines they were released.

The police emphatically stated yesterday, however, that hereafter all caught peddling without a license will be summarily dealt with.

Twelve Innings at Boston.

BOSTON, July 6.—Cincinnati defeated Boston today in a 12-inning game. There was much ragged fielding and poor pitching. Flaherty, whose home run in the ninth sent Kling around ahead of him, misjudged Severoid's fly in the twelfth and two men crossed the plate. Boston scored one run in their half, but a double play, with the bases full, followed by an out at first base, prevented the locals from tying the score again. Score: R.H.E. NEW YORK, July 6.—The Chicagoans won the first game of the series from the New Yorks by hitting Wiltse hard. Richie was rather wild at the start, but settled down and pitched invincible ball. The lone run scored off him in the third resulted from Chicago's only error—a wild throw to first by Doyle. Zimmerman hit into the left-field bleachers for a home run in the sixth, doubled with the bases full in the seventh and singled in the ninth. Score: R.H.E. Walking Match at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, July 6.—In a game featured by poor pitching, St. Louis defeated the home team. Philadelphia's pitchers gave 13 bases on balls to 10 for St. Louis pitchers. Luderus, with two home runs and two singles, and Ellis, with a home run, two triples and a single, led the hitting. Score: R.H.E. BROOKLYN, July 6.—Pittsburgh knocked Barger off the rubber in three innings and won easily. Ragan was no better than a pitcher, and the visitors piled up 19 hits for 23 bases. Camnitz was effective throughout. Score: R.H.E. Pittsburgh 0 2 5 0 1 0 0 1—10 13 1 Brooklyn 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0—1 5 3 Barger, Ragan and Camnitz.

COMMITTEE PLANS WORK ON COTTON SCHEDULE REVISION

DENVER, July 6.—Women employed at cigar stands which are in the entrance of saloons and billiard halls in Denver must go. An order was issued by the fire and police board to the chief of police for execution. It is understood that some 30 or more women will be affected.

The fire and police board does not believe that such employment is proper for women at such locations not conducive to the moral uplift.

There was a loud clamor by the owners of these places, also by the girls affected, this morning, when the order was put in effect. The girls think the order is cruel.

LIVES WITH BROKEN NECK

BOULDER, Colo., July 6.—C. W. Jones, aged 35, was thrown from a wagon this morning and probably fatally injured. The horse which he was driving ran away and threw him head first from his seat, the wheels of the wagon passing over his head in such a way as to break his neck.

Mr. Jones remained conscious after the accident and was able to tell the details of the mishap.

COMMITTEE PLANS WORK ON COTTON SCHEDULE REVISION

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Democratic members of the ways and means committee held a brief preliminary meeting today and planned work on the cotton schedule revision which will be taken up next week in earnest.

Raymond W. Rainey, of Illinois, chairman of the subcommittee which for weeks has been preparing facts and figures relating to the cotton industry has submitted the data to the committee.

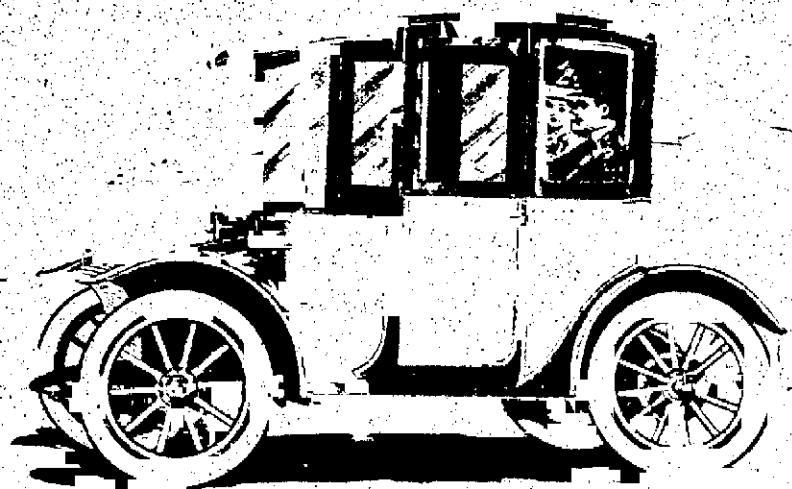

DETAILS OF EARTHQUAKE

SEATTLE, Wash., July 6.—Oriental papers arriving here today give details of the earthquake of June 15 in the Loo-Choo archipelago, and on the western shore of Honshu, Japan. At Naha, the Loo-Choo capital, one person was killed. In Kagoshima prefecture, Kyushu, five persons were killed. In Osumi province, Kyushu, six persons were killed and 400 houses destroyed.

SALE PRICES LOWER ON "DRY WEATHER" CATTLE

KANSAS CITY, July 6.—Another big supply of "dry weather" cattle was received at the Kansas City stock yards today. Eighteen thousand cattle in all had been received at 3 p. m. Some of the canner class today sold as low as $2.25. Prices were from 50 to 75 cents lower than last week and 42 lower than two months ago.

A car of French design of the very latest fashion.

Extra Factors of Safety in This Beautiful Car

You are fortunate in being able to secure in the Hupp-Verbs a rare combination of utmost safety and economy of operation. Its curved roof, sloping hood and low hunk body excite the deepest admiration. These same distinguishing features place the Hupp-Verbs far in advance of the ordinary and make it the safest electric in the world. The low suspension of the body and the uniform distribution of weight make it practically impossible for the Hupp-Verbs to tip over or turn turtle—a danger always possible with a body high above the ground.

Add to these two vital safety factors the further advantage of lessened wind resistance and the resulting economy of power and current—by reason of the curved roof and the sloping hood, and you have a sum of actual superiorities over any other car in the entire electric field. Even if you would permit beauty alone to govern your choice of an electric, you would have no other after seeing the Hupp-Verbs, and with the added features there is no chance for argument or hesitation as you will find if you ask for a demonstration.

FRIDAY, JULY 7, 1911.

GRF.C.

W. S. STRATTON died in September 1902. In another two months it will be nine years since his estate passed into the hands of his executors, two of whom Dr. D. H. Rice and Tyson S. Dines...still remain in authority as trustees. The terms of Stratton's will whereby the entire estate was to be used for the establishment and maintenance of the Myron Stratton Home, are still unfulfilled.

The executors or the trustees, as the case might be, have occasionally "reported progress" but that is all. The Myron Stratton Home still exists only in the last will of the man who planned it and in the minds of the people. Meanwhile the estate has increased tremendously in value. We have no authoritative information on the subject, but according to general belief, which may or may not be well founded, its assets have grown by approximately two million dollars since Stratton's death.

Now this would be a very fine thing if the Stratton estate were merely a private estate, owned by individuals or stockholders and administered as such private concerns are, for the express purpose of earning the largest dividend for its owners. Under these circumstances such a showing would entitle the trustees to high praise as shrewd business men and faithful executors of the trust reposed in them.

But understand, dear reader, that the Stratton estate is not a private concern or corporation. It does not belong to any individuals or stockholders. It was bequeathed by its owners as a gift to public charity, and the executors, later succeeded by the trustees, were placed in their positions merely to act as agents in carrying out the instructions of the original owner, who, being dead, could not do the work himself.

Stated in simpler terms, Stratton wanted his entire fortune used to build a home for the poor. He did not want it done until after his death, so he provided in his will that his executors should use the money for this purpose.

Have they done it? Not in nine years, and there is no tangible evidence that they will do it in nine years more. They have taken that fortune of seven or eight million dollars, or whatever it was, and with it have conducted a street railway business, a mining business and a real estate business, each of them on an immense scale. They have conducted these businesses with much shrewdness and sagacity, so that they have earned large profits. As fast as the profits come in they have gone to swell the already enormous volume of wealth held by the estate.

Month by month the nickels and dimes, mostly dimes roll in from the street railway company; the rentals come in from the Brown Palace Hotel, the Mining Exchange Building and other choice realty; and the royalties are paid by the lessees of the Stratton holdings in the Cripple Creek District. The Stratton estate is prosperous, there is no doubt about that. But again we must not lose sight of the fact that it is not a private corporation. It belongs to a public. It was dedicated by its founder to a charitable purpose, the maintenance of a home where the sick and unfortunate might find a refuge.

That is the crucial fact in the whole situation, and this is why the public has a right to demand the cessation of a policy which is diametrically opposed to every public interest. If the Stratton estate had been consistently administered in the spirit expressed in Stratton's will, and if at the present time it found itself in a pinch and could show in good faith that it could not bear the financial burden of street paving, it would have the sympathy and support of the public.

But how different is the real situation! For nine years it has been a grasping, grinding, dollar-grabbing machine which apparently exists solely to make money. Its executors and trustees have complied with the terms of Stratton's will only insofar as the law compels them to do so. Delay, delay, endless delay has been their motto. Any pretext, any quibble has been seized upon still further to delay actual obedience to Stratton's dying injunction. Meanwhile there have been fat pickings in the way of fees and salaries.

And throughout these nine years there has been a studied indifference to the progressive spirit of the community, a thinly disguised opposition to every public enterprise, which has for its object the broader welfare of Colorado Springs. The power of inertia of such vast wealth is enormous, and the trustees of the Stratton estate have used this power, and are using it today, to block the progress of Colorado Springs. If everybody else followed the policy to which they rigidly adhere (this would be a country village. And though their lawyers may seek to disguise the fact by specious argument it is nevertheless clear that their real reason is just plain everyday stinginess, and contemptible stinginess at that, for it has its roots in the greed which seeks to pile dollar on dollar, not because of the good which the dollars may do, but to gratify the joy of gloating over them which only the true miser knows and feels.

The Council should fight this case to the finish, and in so doing it will have the prayerful support of every right-thinking citizen of Colorado Springs. But whether it wins or loses, it is impossible to see that the Stratton estate is entitled to the slightest consideration from the government or people of this city.

CUNNINGHAM CLAIMS REJECTED.
From the New York Evening Post.
The decision announced by the commissioner of the land office and approved by the secretary of the interior probably brings to a definite end the struggle over the Cunningham claims to Alaska coal lands, which have so long been under investigation by the department and which for a time formed the storm center of American politics. And now that the decision has been made, it seems extraordinary that it should have been so long a time in coming. Extraordinary not because the case has involved no perplexities or difficulties, but because Commissioner Dennett assigns for his disallowance of the claims reasons so simple and untechnical that one can but wonder that it should have required any very prolonged consideration to find them conclusive.

SUBWAYS AND TAXES.
From the New York Tribune.
When the taxpayers in the outlying parts of the city come to pay their tax bills this year they will be brought to a realization of the cost of the rapid transit for which they have been so clamorous. The assessed valuations of property, especially in the outlying districts, have been heavily increased this year to enhance the city's borrowing capacity sufficiently to provide subways reaching these districts. In The Bronx, for instance, assessed valuations advanced from $400,000,000 to $600,000,000, or roughly 50 per cent. The tax rate remaining almost the same, the taxpayers of The Bronx will pay nearly 50 per cent more taxes than they had to pay last year.

The increase in assessed valuations in Queens amounts to about one-third, and in the undeveloped parts of Brooklyn the advance in valuations was similar to that in Queens and in The Bronx. The increased borrowing capacity will be all needed for subway construction, and when the subways have been constructed it will be a long time according to the estimates of the successful bidder, before they will be operated at a profit. It is an expensive undertaking to provide a comprehensive subway system giving a long ride for five cents and serving undeveloped territory from which traffic will be slight and unprofitable, and it is especially expensive when devotion to a five-cent fare is carried to such an excess as in the plan to transport passengers from The Bronx to Coney Island for a nickel. But this is the first time that the relation between taxes and the policy of the public bettering subways will be distinctly felt, and it will be felt most where that policy is most loudly insisted upon—namely, in the undeveloped sections.

IS THE PEACE OF EUROPE SERIOUSLY MENACED BY GERMANY?
From the Chicago Record-Herald.
Morocco remains one of the "sore spots" of international diplomacy. The Algiers conference and convention of 1906 undoubtedly averted war, but the problem was not solved permanently. Germany recognized the peculiar and important political interest of France in Morocco, while France recognized Germany's commercial interests and the necessity of maintaining the open door and preventing a partition of the disturbed empire. These two great powers subsequently reached a further understanding and agreed to treat each other with confidence and trust with regard to Moroccan complications, should any arise. Rebellions and anarchy brought about another crisis. The foreign residents of Morocco in danger of being massacred, a relief expedition was necessary. France, acting under a mandate of Europe, sent Algerian troops to the Moroccan capital, fought the rebellious tribesmen, reached and relieved Fez. But—there was the rub. The army was the army of occupation going to remain in Morocco? What were the real designs and intentions of France? Germany, on the other hand, was hostile and made charges of hypocrisy and grabbing against the Parisian government. At one time the situation was acute, and gossip had it that Russia, as the ally of France, had been consistently administered in the spirit expressed in Stratton's will, and if at the present time it found itself in a pinch and could show in good faith that it could not bear the financial burden of street paving, it would have the sympathy and support of the public.

RECLAMATION OF SWAMP LANDS

From the Louisville Courier-Journal.
The Illinois Central railroad is preparing to send a "reclamation special" over the various lines to give impetus to the movement for the drainage of swamps. Representatives of the United States Geological survey and the reclamation service are to accompany the special train and deliver lectures at various points. The campaign is to begin in southern Illinois and to continue to the Gulf of Mexico, covering the states of Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana and Arkansas.
All the states named have large areas of swamp lands and all of them would be greatly better off if these swamps were drained and converted into tillable land. Outside of the timber they produce swamps are utterly valueless. Once drained, cleared up and cultivated, they are marvellously fertile. Marsh and pond lands are assessed at a merely nominal valuation, and are usually sold, where they are sold at all, at a merely nominal price. Drainage increases their value enormously and makes them highly desirable for agricultural purposes. This has been demonstrated in many sections of the country, although the drainage movement in most states of the Union is still in its infancy.
No better example of the advantages of drainage could be found, perhaps, than is presented in southeastern Missouri, where in recent years thousands of acres of water-covered lands have been reclaimed and put into cultivation. A vast section of territory once regarded as a plague spot has been transformed into productive farms. The counties wherein this change has been accomplished have increased largely in wealth and population, and a region once plumed has come to be generally known as the most desirable part of the state from an agricultural standpoint.
Swamp lands are confined to no particular part of the country. Every state in the Union has its quota, though the aggregate is much larger in the states of the south. There are those who believe the National irrigation congress is urging that the same policy be pursued with respect to marsh lands as is being followed in the case of arid land in the west. There is reason and good sense in the

NO. 5 SIEGE OF SARAGOSSA

The little town of Saragossa, the ancient capital city of the kingdom of Aragon, would have figured little in history, except for the famous sieges of 1808 and 1809, in which contests was displayed the unyielding fortitude of the inhabitants of both sexes.
The French, having obtained possession of Navarre in June, 1808, advanced to Saragossa, and attempting to take the city by assault, were repulsed with great loss. Returning with augmented numbers, they occupied the best positions, and invested nearly half the town, keeping up a fire from mortars and battering cannon. On the fourth of August, 1808, they entered the central street, but they were met with furious opposition and discouraged by intelligence from the south of Spain, retired at last on the fourteenth.
The second siege was no less obstinate and sanguinary. The French, with great reinforcements, in the end of November, once more began an assault against Saragossa. Their first great attack gave them possession of some important posts, but with heavy loss. On the tenth of January began the bombardment, which, violent as it was, caused less injury than a contagious fever and a famine among the garrison.
The Spanish, however, continued to make, under the brave Palafox, a most determined resistance, and it was not till after a bombardment of six weeks and a very unequal contest in mining, that Saragossa surrendered on February 18, 1809. The Spanish defenders struggled to the last, yielding only house by house.
The French, when they began the siege, had no idea of the terrible resistance that was awaiting them. They planted their most substantial siege trains and batteries on El Torero, a hill overlooking the city, and asserted that the city was inhabited by priests, cowards and women. They soon learned to their regret, their mistake. Instead of the task being an easy one, the Spanish resistance was the most desperate and heroic known in the annals of warfare.
For months the invaders were repulsed, while the besieged people made every sacrifice and endured every misery possible for patriots to suggest or heroism to achieve. On the second of June a Saragossan, bribed by French gold, fired a powder magazine within the walls. The inhabitants, involved in the falling ruins, stunned and bewildered by the explosion, and the confusion that ensued, were paralyzed and powerless. A massacre rather than a battle followed; the ramparts were choked with dead bodies, and defense seemed no longer possible.
But at this moment there arose a Spanish "Yan of Arc" from out of the church of Nuestra Señora del Pilar, who with a white raiment and a cross suspended from her neck, traversed the city with a bold step, passed the ramparts, and, with a gesture of suggestion, especially with regard to swamp lands which may be owned by the government.

The Life of Pharaoh Smith
By WEX JONES

In their researches into the tomb of Pharaoh Smith, who died at Philo on the Nile, in the year 1870, the archaeologists unearthed two half bricks, which are here shown placed together, since they give an interesting picture of some phases of Summer life in Philo.

In the left half section the long, wavy line is the conventional Egyptian symbol for the edge of the Nile.

In the water may be noticed a swimmer doing the overarm stroke to escape from an alligator. As he does not look ahead, he is going straight for the jaws of another monster. Since no rescuer appears from the pyramid bungalow on the bank, we conclude the swimmer is a policeman. The man in the boat has just hooked a fish, and naturally couldn't be expected to bother about saving a life until he landed his catch.

The actions of the two figures first seen near the bungalow are obvious. They seek a hammock spread between two palms. Then we see the palms gradually collapse, and the two occupants of the hammock are thrown out.

The lower half tells a simple story. A party of six have hired an auto to make the trip along the Nile to Philo from the neighboring city of Newark. At the end of the trip the driver demands an exorbitant fare. The six are seen protesting, but in the third illustration are shown digging up.

Finally they are depicted walking home in the dust.

STOPS CONSTRUCTION OF RAILROAD WITH A RIFLE

WICHITA, Kan., July 6.—Harvey Pitman, a farmer, who has been holding up the grading work of the Midland Valley railroad at the boundary of his farm, 10 miles south of here, for two weeks yesterday held the graders and the sheriff at bay with a rifle and prevented the railroaders from carrying out their announced intention of grading through his farm.

Early in the day a dynamite mine was exploded, frightening the negroes in the grading camp so they refused to go on the place.

J. E. Hopkins, right of way man for the railroad, then went on the farm and removed 12 charges of dynamite.

In the afternoon a party of surveyors attempted to replace the grade stakes on the right of way, but Pitman appeared from a nearby corn field, ordering the workmen off. They obeyed. Later Sheriff Milhaud arranged through Pitman's wife for an interview. Pitman said that he would not

"No Harm in Moderate Smoking or Drinking"

ASSBURY PARK, N. J., July 6.—Drinking and smoking in moderation are not morally wrong, in the opinion of Dr. A. E. Ballard, president of the Ocean Grove Camp Meeting association. Nor does the doctor discountenance the use of cigarettes, provided they are made of good tobacco.

Speaking at the Ocean Grove tabernacle, Dr. Ballard said he was brought up in a family where liquor was used regularly and that he had never had any conscientious scruples about taking it. Many of the ministers and others in the congregation disagreed with the speaker as to whether there was moral wrong in drinking, but Dr. Ballard smilingly insisted that there was no wrong in the moderate use of stimulants.

He said, however, that becoming interested, he looked into the matter of drunkenness in the United States, and on finding such an amount of it, he decided that for the sake of example, if nothing else, he must stop. With St. Peter, he believed that nothing of itself was unclean, but only insofar as it made our brothers offend did it become wrong.

As for tobacco, Dr. Ballard declared he could see no harm in the use of it. He said he had been a smoker until he was 56 years old, having started so young that he could not remember how early it was. At the request of the church, when he was 56, that its ministers give up smoking for the sake of example, he had stopped it.

Dr. Ballard was asked whether he countenanced the use of cigarettes and he replied: "Why, I don't see why not, providing, however, they are made of good tobacco. The trouble is that a great many cheap articles are on the market which contain injurious drugs which do the harm when smoked and not tobacco."

The general sense of the meeting seemed to be that it was one's duty to abandon anything the use of which proved harmful to others.

SENATOR BERAH

WASHINGTON, July 6.—To get away from the heat of Washington and to have opportunity to talk politics, President Taft has planned a two days' yachting party on his flagship, the Mayflower, with a number of senators as his guests. The president will board the Mayflower at Philadelphia on the night of July 7 after speaking to the Christian Endeavor convention at Atlantic City on "International Peace and Arbitration."

The Mayflower will go to sea and will reach Hampton Roads probably Sunday night and Washington early Monday.

If the date is agreeable to Governor Wilson of Kentucky, President Taft will go to Hodgenville, Ky., October 26 to dedicate the Lincoln memorial building there.

MAN KILLED AT PUEBLO

PUEBLO, Colo., July 6.—A man believed to be Ellis Weston of Indianapolis, Ind., was instantly killed at the Union depot by being run down by a passenger train.

The man did not see the engine approaching, according to witnesses, until it was upon him. His body was horribly mangled.

DEFENDS CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

WASHINGTON, July 6.—A remarkable defense of Christian science and a personal history of his family's experiences in that faith including the story of his own transition from doctor to devout believer was made in the Senate today by Senator Works of California.

His speech was in reply to one by Senator Owen, whose bill for department of public health has met opposition from many Christian Scientists and supporters of various schools of medicine.

Mr. Works denounced the movement for a national department of health as an attempt by the American medical association to control medical activities.

Mr. Works said Christian Science had rescued him from death and had saved his wife from suffering.
